

CAPE COASTAL VINTNERS

Wine growers since 1689

Cape Coastal Vintners was established in 2004 with a primary focus to develop and market premium, quality South African wines.

The company has the collective backing of five premium wineries located in the wine producing areas of Paarl, Swartland and Wellington. These vast winegrowing areas stretch from the coastal region through to the mountainous interior of the Western Cape, ensuring a diversity of micro climates and soils.

With a heritage dating back to 1689, and internationally lauded in their own right, the strategic alliance of the five well-established wineries, namely Boland, Riebeeck, Wellington, Wamakersvallei and Bovlei Cellar, combine the capacity to crush 80,000 tons of grapes to produce a combined average of 5 million cases. With this alliance, Cape Coastal Vintners has a unique supply agreement to exclusively select the best grapes from the best blocks, and with the use of their modern production facilities, make the best wines from these areas, with the help of Cellar Master Koos Jordaan.

The strategic management of the company, Cape Coastal Vintners, is driven by a team comprising prominent South African businessmen, private investors, Strategy Partners Cape Town, black economic empowerment and internationally experienced wine production specialists.
